RIGHTEOUS RIB

When I first got a chance to check out Walker Bay's new Genesis line last year, I couldn't believe how far RIBs have come. These are not the bare-boned dinghys I remember as a kid.

Walker Bay agreed to loan us one of its 310s for the summer so we could really put it to the test. Her deep-V hull and trim tabs make for a smooth ride and the flat, non-skid floor is easy to maneuver around. The removeable seat can shift fore or aft and it's got a stowage compartment and cup holders. Strong carrying handles and wheels on the hull make the 310 easy to transport and it's offered in PVC or Hypalon, so you'd have to do something spectacularly stupid to do any major damage.
